Leaders Resign Themselves to United States' Acceptance of Exclusion Amendment—Decision Is Crushing Blow to Ambition

ECONOMIC FUTURE OF NATION DEPENDS ON COOPERATION WITH ANGLO-SAXONS

Newspapers Print Editorials Protesting Against the Action—Turmoil Is Expected in Political Circles—Prince Matsukata to Return to Tokio Soon

TOKIO, April 17.—The resignation of Oriental fatalism characterizes the spirit in which Japanese leaders have received news of the United States' acceptance of the Japanese exclusion amendment.

"There's nothing to be done," this phrase, frequently uttered, seems to express accurately the mood of official Japan. Japanese leaders now believe they have lost the last foothold in the struggle for racial equality. They receive the Senate's decision as a crushing blow to their ambitions, dearly cherished through two generations, to be received on completely equal footing with the great white powers.

Sober-minded leaders, however, are not so easily satisfied with the present condition and feel that they have nothing to gain and much to lose through a retaliatory policy. The primary consideration is Japan's economic dependence on the United States. Any policy prejudicial to commercial relations with the United States, it is realized, would lead to economic disaster for Japan. Leaders do not desire to court such a disaster.

Further, there is a belief that in any fundamental test, Great Britain and the United States would stand together. Japan's vital interests in China demand that she cooperates with the Anglo-Saxons. The most natural and logical course, which might sacrifice the equality ambitions, is to realize the amendment.

STATEMENT OF FOREIGN POLICY.—The statement of Foreign Minister Matsukata, which determined the action to be taken by all treaties with other countries, represents the views of a majority of the cabinet, who see that Japan must maintain her own prestige in the eyes of the world, independent of its ability to translate this prestige into economic advantage.

School Board to Charge Fees.—The monthly meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board last night was decided to defer the consideration of the commercial high schools in the city. Only after considerable discussion with the Anglo-Saxons.

The board decided to avail itself of an amendment to the Schools Act of 1913 and 1914, which provides for the non-resident status of the students in the District Separate School hall were arranged for the members and all of the students in the hall were present. The meeting was ordered to adjourn.

U.S. HIGHER WHEAT TARIFF IS LOWER OF ALTERNATIVES

President Coolidge, in Proclamation Increasing Import Rate, Chooses Lesser Increase Recommended by the Tariff Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Coolidge chose the lower of the two suggested import rates on wheat in his recent proclamation increasing the tariff from thirty to forty cents a bushel, the maximum permitted under the law, while the other suggestion was to increase it to forty-five cents.

The President also accepted the suggestion for a rate of $1.04 per hundred bushel, which is the maximum allowed on wheat flour equal to a recommendation for a duty of $1.11 as necessary to equilibrate production costs between the United States and Canada.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 17.—When a charge of nitro-glycerine, wired by safe blowers, wrecked the safe in the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo train at 12:30 a.m. yesterday evening early today, a large ledger was thrown against one of the control levers nearby, as a result of which a freight train from Welland received a signal from the safe.

Had the ledger struck the next lever three inches away, a Buffalo train carrying hundreds of passengers would have been derailed, perhaps with appalling loss of life.

The safe contained four cents.

WINNIPEG, April 17.—Aaron Sapiro, cooperative pool expert of Chicago, will attend a special session of the Royal Grain Inquiry on April 28. He stated positively in a telegram received by the commission today, that he would be in Winnipeg on that day. Mr. Sapiro will not be permitted to speak on behalf of the grain interests, announced, but will have to submit to the same process of examination as other witnesses.

It is possible that April 28 will be a holiday day, as officials of the Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta pool organizations likely will testify.

James Richardson, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, continued his evidence at the afternoon session, giving his view on hedging and the necessity for the practice from an exporter's standpoint.

The committee reported to the House the evidence taken before it on its eighteen sittings and made several suggestions and recommendations.

W. E. Sinclair, Liberal leader, and Manning, Liberal leader, U. P. O. leader, both said in the house that they did not concur in the whole report of the Public Accounts Committee, believing that the government should be liable to institute them.

British Rugby Season Commences Today With Eskimos Playing Edmonton

George Dewe's Rugby Circuit Expects to Have Banner Season—Teams Have Added Experience and Promise Fine Brand of Play

British rugby followers will get a chance to yell today. At three fields the Eskimos and the Edmonton clubs will open the official rugby season at Diamond Park. Right after the finish of the match the Edmonton Junior British Rugby Club and the amateur club will tangle in their game.

Everything is set for a rest rugby. The club have all had more or less experience in the last year and expect to make their "Noodles" the present season should be a great one, not financially but in developing star British rugby players.

The Eskimos are practically all the old Harlequin club. In the seasons that have gone by the Eskimos have made a record. In 1922, the Quins were figures upon as the winners of the British Rugby League—that is they and the Eskimos were the only ones to win the city title, but they did not receive the trophy. The Eskimos were the Welsh team that did not win the Welsh team that did not win the Welsh team of 1922 was the best. This team has not yet played in the city—they were first to play in the city when they were beaten, and played in the city when they were beaten. The Welsh team will remember that little fellow Phillips. Phillips would not have been beaten if he was just about knee-high to a grass. Phillips was the best player of the league, for he was known to stop一切.

Play Lightly, Chid.

The only thing that British Rugby do not wear much armor, in fact they do not wear any armor but not putting on a little padding. In the Canadian game the warriors have to wear a lot of padding, for if it is realized by all that the players just wear jerseys, whites, and shorts, and not padding, then the game will be a single sparring match in comparison.

Yale Boxer's Record Clean

CAPTAIN B. F. FUNK

This young boxer, Captain B. F. Funk, of the Yale boxing team, son of Representative Funk, from Illinois, has come out with a record of eastern intercollegiate boxing, and is expected to lose a single sparring match in comparison.

and the British Rugby season will have started.

The teams will line up today as follows: The Eskimos' colors will be red and black; the Edmonton colors will be blue and white.

BUSINESS WILL GO ON

Whether prices go up or down, whether labor conditions get better or worse, whether interest rates work higher or lower, business will go on, and those who are worthy will be the ones to do it.

There are some 8,000,000 people in Canada who must be fed, clothed and sheltered, and there will always be something to exchange for entertainment and luxuries. And through it all, the business that is worthy, that serves legitimate requirements persistently and consistently, will continue.

There will always be men to do the world's work. They will be business men of clear vision, who not only talk service but give it—give it every day—and who never lose faith for a minute. Such men are responsible for the world's prosperity. They will continue in their success as surely as modern civilization endures.

Therefore don't cry hard times, but preach optimism. Keep smiling.
